CONFAB NOT TO AFFECT STATUS OF U. S. TROOPS

will be presented Monday or Tuesday by Eliseo Arredondo, Mexican ambassador designate. A state department dispatch today reported that Mendez passed through Eagle Pass, Texas, yesterday.

An urgent deficiency appropriation of $3,089,290, to meet obligations coming due on the border and in Mexico, was asked of congress today by Secretary Baker. Of this amount, $2,297,975 is for transportation of the army and its supplies, and $161,315 for army horses, including those for the border states militia.

The state department received word today of renewed activity of Zapata outlaws about Mexico City. Puebla, a railroad junction, was raided and ten Mexicans killed. Stores were looted, but no Americans were endangered. The bandits were driven off.

Garvia Asks Conference

EL PASO, May 27.—General Gabriel Garvia, at Juarez this morning sent a telegram to Gen. J. J. Pershing at Nampiqua, suggesting that in view of the new Carranza troop movements it would be advisable for the two commanders to get in communication with each other so as to prevent any misunderstandings or conflicts.

General Garvia explained afterwards that he did not think it necessary for him to arrange a meeting with General Pershing, as they could easily confer over the telegraph. It was assumed that General Garvia would go to Casas Grandes from Juarez over the Northwestern railroad Tuesday.

General Francisco Gonzales, commander of the 1,000 men sent to reinforce General Garvia, today was moving his men westward from Villa Ahumada and other points along the Mexican Central to Casas Grandes, Galeana and other towns in close proximity to the American forces.

General Garvia said that in view of the fact that the Mexicans were occupying this territory he could see no good reason for the Americans remaining.

All persons whose property in Mexico has been confiscated during the restoration will be permitted to offer evidence in a claim for restoration before the authorities, Consul Garcia stated here today.

He received this information which is highly important to many Mexican exiles in the United States and other countries direct from the de facto government in Mexico City.

The government, according to the report to the consulate, has started a general movement throughout Mexico to stabilize the currency. Price of necessities and wages of employees are fixed by the authorities. Any one disregarding the official valuation of the new paper money incurs severe penalties.

Middle of the Week

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., General Gavira, commander of the Mexican forces in northern Chihuahua, will confer with General Pershing Wednesday or Thursday at Casas Grandes regarding more effective co-operation of American and Mexican troops. General Bell at El Paso reported to General Funston tonight that General Gavira had advised him that Wednesday evening or Thursday will be a convenient time for him to meet the American general and suggested Casas Grandes for the conference.

General Funston advised General Pershing of the Mexican officer's suggestions and authorized him to leave Colonia Dublin, one of the supply bases of the American expedition and go to Casas Grandes, only a few miles away at the time suggested. It was assumed that General Gavira would go to Casas Grandes from Juarez over the Northwestern railroad Tuesday.

Push Yaqui Campaign

REGISTRATION STARTS HEAVY

Women Seizing Chance to Vote for President; 7500 of Anticipated 25,000 Already Signed for Register of Fall Election

Women will poll practically as strong a vote in Maricopa county this fall as the men. This is the belief of registration officers, who have to late last night received the signatures of 7,500 of the predicted 25,000 who will be on the rolls of this county for the coming election.

Recorder Vaughn's force is already putting in night work, clipping signatures and pasting them in the duplicate books, writing in the numbers and otherwise shaping up the registers.

County Registration Officer Edith M. Jacobs believes the heavy registration due chiefly to the fact it's a presidential year. Warm interest is being taken in the fight for leadership in the nation.

Registration books so far provided have not proven adequate; they are in some cases smaller than the requisition called for. Basing their orders on an anticipated one-third increase, the officers have asked for book supplies far greater than ever needed before.

The coming election will be the first opportunity Arizona women will have had to vote for a president. They are eagerly seizing it. But in 1914 they did pretty well, as the following list of precinct registrations will show:

near Guaymas. He will proceed immediately after his arrival to issue orders for the new disposition of troops in the Yaqui campaigns as decided upon at the conference.

Almost an entire shift of troops will be necessary to carry this out. It is stated in Agua Prieta, and the scene of the campaign will be transferred from the southern portion of the state toward the north.

This will bring several thousand troops near the border in addition to those in camp at Fronteras and Chihuahua.

Several hundred soldiers and civilians left Agua Prieta this afternoon on two special trains for Cuernavaca, 25 miles south, to attend a barbecue and picnic given by the soldiers stationed there in honor of General Calles.

This is considered a very favorable sign here, as it appears that the tension which has existed since the Columbus raid among Mexican troops has diminished to the vanishing point.

CASE OF OFFICIALS OVERSHOOTING MARK

Snap Judgment of Probation Officers Leads to Arrest of Three Young Girls; Court Dismisses Them.

Taking the word of the neighbors rather than making a direct investigation led to three young girls being taken into the juvenile court by the county probation officers yesterday on a serious charge. All three were found innocent.

The hearing in Judge Stanford's chambers occupied only a short time and the entire testimony might easily have been procured before such a charge was made against girls in their teens. The only ones called to the witness stand might have been spared the court proceedings had been the same queries been put to them before action was taken by the officers.

The officers stated that an investigation had been made the nature of which was not divulged, beyond the fact that "the neighbors complained." The girls themselves did not know what they had been charged when they were taken into custody by the probation officers, and no attempt was made to find out their guilt or innocence before their names were placed to a document that is recorded in a court.

For ten days the officers knew of the case that was dismissed by Judge Stanford in a few moments. In those ten days the girls believe what passed in the chambers might have come to the probation officers' knowledge with little effort on their part.

"Our names will be taken off the books," they inquired tearfully as they left for home.

STRONG FORCE CARRANZISTAS AFTER BANDITS

which point it will march to San Francisco de Borjas. Using that village as a base, Garrisons of one hundred men each, to patrol the surrounding country in search for bandits are to be established in Carichuchi, Satevo, No-lana and Sisogachic, in the territory recently evacuated by the Americans. General Matias Ramos and his brigade have been ordered to Aldama to await orders, while Colonel Zuazua's command will occupy Santa Isabel, San Andres and the district in the vicinity of Bustillos.

Ocampo has been chosen as base for the Garza brigade under Colonel Balderas and General Carranza's forces will occupy Guerrero, Minaca, Lajunta and San Ysidro. Bachinili, Cusi and San Antonio will be garrisoned by the troops of Colonel Carlos Carranza, supported by the command of Colonel Suenz which is being sent south to join them by General Gavira.

With these forces constantly on their heels, it is believed that the scattered remnants of the Villista bands will be run to earth quickly and that there will remain nothing for the United States soldiers to do. General Trevino has explained that he will not allow the commands to remain inactive in the towns but that they have been ordered to a relentless pursuit until at San Fernando, according to reports from Concho. On the field at San Fernando the bandits left four dead and cently inflicted severe losses upon the bands operating in this section, according to reports here. General Macotte telegraphed from Torreon that the surrender and disarming of seventy-five per cent of Canuto Reyes' men has been effected, while Colonel Marcial that his command yesterday overtook Juan Chavez with seventy-five bandits on the Espejo ranch. In the resulting engagement the bandits lost four dead and five prisoners, together with a number of horses and a quantity of equipment. Colonel Lopez said the pursuit of the fleeing band was being continued.

Other reports received from Colonel Zuazua, who has been pursuing bands into the Sierra de La Molina, told of the surrender and disarming of the Murga Brothers with twenty men. Colonel Zuazua said the Murga brothers asked to be retained to assist him in breaking up several small bands, operating in the same locality. General Maldonado engaged Villistas in a skirmish at Laguneta and again later at San Fernando, according to reports from Concho. On the field at San Fernando the bandits left four dead and a quantity of booty, including forty saddled horses, according to the reports.

Elaborate preparations are being made throughout this section for the first anniversary celebration of May 31, of the final defeat of Villa forces under General Urbina at Ebano, where General Trevino turned the tide of the campaign winning the battle and with it the vast revenues from the Mexican oil fields for his government.

Is Not a Menace

COLUMBUS, N. M., May 27.—The movement of Mexican troops into territory recently evacuated by General Pershing's command is not viewed as a menace to American arms, according to military officials here tonight. It was rather to be expected that Mexican commanders would occupy sections evacuated by American troops, the better to take up any work believed unfinished by the expeditionary column it was said. In the event the latest constitutionalist moves assume more than their present peaceful aspect, it was said here that General Pershing is amply prepared.
